Professional Experience and Services

I have worked with, but not limited to, children, adolescents, young adults, and women from a wide diverse background and challenges. These challenges include, but not limited to, onset childhood behavioral concerns (Attention Deficient Hyperactive Disorder, Intermittent Explosive Disorder, behavioral concerns at home and school, and children displaced from their biological family), career changes, depression, grief, spiritual growth, anxiety, trauma, family dynamics, human sexuality, women in crisis and other life circumstances.

My approach to counseling is best described as integrative, working within the framework of, but not limited to Cognitive Therapy, Solution Focus Brief-Therapy, Trauma-Focused Cognitive Behavioral Therapy, Motivational Interviewing, or any other techniques deem necessary. I also address the spiritual concerns of clients as part of a holistic approach to healing and health. The goal of counseling will be based on each client individually according to his or their specific concerns and reasons for entering counseling.

CONFIDENTIALITY

The confidentiality of your personal health information is very important to me. At LifeCare we have a team approach and confidential information may be shared with other providers on our team as necessary to ensure the best quality of care. Your personal information is confidential within the practice. I may use and disclose your personal information without authorization for the following purposes: abuse, neglect, domestic violence, or court order. As required or permitted by law, I may disclose health information about you to a state or federal agency to report suspected abuse to self or others, neglect, domestic violence, or court order. If such a report is optional, I will use my professional judgment in deciding if to make such a report. If feasible, I will inform you promptly that I have made such a disclosure.

Minors and Disabled Adults

When working with clients who are minors or adults who are legally incapable of giving consent, I will obtain consent from a parent or legally authorized representative. For children who are clients, it will be determined the extent that he or she has an understanding of privacy based on chronological age and cognitive ability. If the child has no concept of privacy, then I am free to share information with parents without informing the child first.

Pre-adolescents and adolescents will be seen on an "informed forced consent" in that information will be handled as confidential, but it is up to the therapist to decide what information is pertinent to share with the parents. Sometimes it is in the best interest of the minor client not to disclose all information to the parents that the child shares with the therapist so as to strengthen the therapeutic alliance and work through issues with the minor. Parents of the minor will be given updates of progress of goals and treatment plans on a scheduled basis. When it is determined that information should be shared for therapeutic reasons or as part of family counseling, the client will be informed and consulted and/or included in sharing the information to the parents or guardians. This of course, is superseded by any of the exceptions of confidentiality (danger to self or others, abuse, or court order) as stated in the above paragraph.

When working with two or more persons who have a relationship such as in a group, family or marriage, I will clarify at the outset who is the primary client as an individual or family unit. I will not share confidences by one family or group member to others outside the family without permission or prior agreement of all members except described in legal exceptions of threat of serious harm to self or others as described above in paragraph one.

Marriage Counseling

With couples specifically, my counseling work will focus on both your relationship and each of you as individuals. In order to maintain fidelity to both of you and your relationship, it is important that we agree on these policies:

- 1) I may share any information conveyed to me by either of you with the other member of the couple. Please do not expect me to keep secrets where doing so jeopardizes the therapeutic work or my relationship with either of you or your relationship. Please be aware that information you choose to share with me that is particularly pertinent to both of you may come out in therapy. This includes all verbal, written and phone conversations and messages.
- 2) If I meet with one or both of you in an individual session, I will likely share the contents of that meeting with the partner in a couples' session in the near future.
- 3) The continued participation by each person is voluntary. Either participant may suspend or terminate the therapy at his or her individual request. At that time, client confidentiality remains solely with the client who is continuing therapy.

If you are dissatisfied with any aspect of the services provided by me, please inform me so that I can address your concerns. If I cannot come to a satisfactory resolution, you may speak further with me or with Maria Lyons, Office Manager. If after doing so you are still dissatisfied, you may contact the NCBLCMHC at P.O. Box 77819, Greensboro, NC 27417 or by phone at 844-622-3572.

Please see "Notice of Privacy Practices" for more detailed information about confidentiality of service and records.
